An aerial photograph of a modern university campus. The central focus is a large, multi-story circular building with a prominent central tower. Surrounding the building are various other campus structures, including a large parking lot filled with cars, and landscaped green areas with trees. The sky is bright blue with scattered white clouds. The overall scene is captured from a high-angle perspective, looking down on the campus.

OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

"OER are teaching, learning and research resources that reside in the public domain or have been released under an intellectual property license that permits their free use and re-purposing by others. Open educational resources include full courses, course materials , modules textbooks, streaming videos, tests, software, and any other tools, materials, or techniques used to support access to knowledge. " - The William and Flora Hwelett Foundation.

"Teaching, learning and research materials in any medium, digital or otherwise, that reside in the public domain or have been released under an open license that permits no-cost access, use, adaption and redistribution by others with no or limited restrictions. " - UNESCO

The aim of Open Educational Resources is to improve access to learning opportunities by sharing knowledge and learning resources.

Open Educational Resources seeks to stimulate, facilities and catalyze growth of the pool of learning resources on the internet which circumvent barriers to access and lift restriction on usage, thus improving education as a social good

EXAMPLE

Teachers are expected to play a greater part in assessing students and use of valuable information to aid their instructions (Bailey, 2004). Cizek and Fitzgerald (1996) asserted that teachers are required to at least understand different purposes of different types of assessment, know how to construct appropriate and useful assessment as well as know how to accurately interpret and appropriately use assessment results.

HOW TO SPOT FAKE NEWS

CONSIDER THE SOURCE

Is there an author? Check out their credentials on relevant issues.

READ BEYOND

Headlines can be outrageous in an effort to get clicks. What's the whole story?

SUPPORTING SOURCES?

Click on links or check with official sources. Do they support the story?

DO OTHERS AGREE?

Are any other sites reporting this? What sources are they citing?

IS IT A JOKE?

If it is too outlandish, it might be satire. Research the source to be sure.

CHECK YOUR BIASES

Consider if your own beliefs or concerns could affect your judgement.

ASK THE EXPERTS

Ask a librarian, or consult a fact-checking site, official source like the WHO.

LOOK BEFORE YOU SHARE

Don't share posts or stories that you haven't checked out first!
